

To kill two birds with one stone

To kill two birds with one stone: The completion of two or more actions at the same time.

Examples:

- (1) He was at the grocery store to buy bread , when his wife called to ask him to go the grocery store to buy butter. He replied I am here already, I can kill two birds with one stone.
- (2) After arriving to work in the morning, killing two birds with one stone, the woman was able to enjoy her cup of coffee while reading text messages.
- (3) At the workplace as the woman was working on a project, her boss called to ask her a few questions. Killing two birds with one stone, she was able to do both tasks at the same time.